When astronauts landed on the moon, our headsets went with them. In fact, a Plantronics headset delivered the historic first words:

“That’s one small step for man,
one giant leap for mankind.”

Not only is that a proud moment in our company’s heritage, it’s also a great example of our commitment to pushing the limits of headset technology.

From those historic first words spoken on the moon to today’s business and personal communications, every headset we build offers you the highest level of quality, comfort, and sound innovation, a hallmark of the Plantronics brand.
